Company-wide opportunity

⚠ Plain truth: Out of every 10 Lagos leads, 4 paid and 6 didn't. More than half the money is still on the table.

Lagos Branch: Critical Performance Insights

The Lagos conversion rate of 44.1% reveals significant untapped potential. With 57 leads still pending, we have a substantial pipeline that requires immediate strategic intervention. The data shows clear performance gaps between our top and bottom performers, with gender and property type playing decisive roles in conversion success.

Lagos: The Stark Performance Gap

Top Performer: Olumide

64.3% conversion rate — closing nearly 2 out of every 3 leads. This is exceptional performance that needs to be studied, documented, and replicated across the entire team.

Urgent Concern: Chioma

18.2% conversion rate — closing less than 2 in 10 leads. This represents a 46.1 percentage point gap from our top performer. Immediate coaching or reassignment required.

❌ The 46.1% performance gap between our best and worst Lagos performers represents lost revenue and indicates serious execution inconsistencies that must be addressed immediately.

Branch Comparison: Gender & Inspection Dynamics

Lagos Patterns

Male Leads

Dominant demographic

Inspection Rate

Strong engagement

Male leads dominate Lagos at 72.5%, and the inspection rate of 62.1% shows strong engagement. Critically, males who inspect achieve 100% conversion, while females lag at 32.8% even after inspection.

Rivers Patterns

Male Leads

Still majority

Inspection Rate

Comparable engagement

Rivers shows similar patterns with 68.4% male leads and 60.4% inspection rate. However, female conversion is notably stronger here at 24.5% versus Lagos at 15.7%.

Key Strategic Insight: Males convert better in Lagos. Females convert better in Rivers. Your marketing targeting should reflect these regional differences.

Property Type Performance Analysis

Residential properties dominate interest in both branches at 63-67%, while commercial sits consistently at 34%. Most critically, industrial properties have generated zero conversions in both locations. This is not a temporary dip — it's a complete failure of that category that demands immediate strategic reevaluation.

❌ Industrial property investment is generating zero returns across both branches. Reallocate resources immediately.

The Golden Combination: 100% Conversion Blueprint

Our data reveals a powerful success formula that works consistently across both Lagos and Rivers branches. When we combine male leads, residential property focus, and successful property inspections, we achieve a perfect 100% conversion rate. This isn't theory — it's proven performance backed by our July numbers.

This combination represents your operational blueprint. Every sales process, marketing campaign, and resource allocation decision should be engineered to replicate these three conditions as frequently as possible. The math is simple: more executions of this formula equals more guaranteed sales.
